

NATION'S BIGGEST
FINANCIERS CALLEDMorgan, Rockefeller, and Others
Summoned by I. C. C. in New Haven Probe.

J. P. Morgan, William Rockefeller, George F. Baker and all directors of the New Haven railroad, during the regime of Charles S. Mellon, were this afternoon subpoenaed to tell the Interstate Commerce Commission what they knew about the alleged ten million dollar losses through "high finance."

Solicitor Folke announced before adjournment this afternoon that these men would be examined next week. The former directors, he said, would be asked about all transactions with the railroad holding company while the present board will be questioned about steps they propose to take to recover these losses.

Rockefeller and Morgan will be examined next Wednesday. Mellon will be on the stand Tuesday. On Monday

Samuel C. Byrnes, former vice president of the New Haven; Samuel C. Storehouse, counsel for the railroad company; and Edward D. Robinson, general counsel for the road, will be quizzed.

When today's hearing opened Carl Karter, of counsel for the I. C. C., presided in the absence of Commissioner McChard. The hearing adjourned at noon until next Monday.

Chicago, former treasurer of the Metropolitan Steamship Company, of Maine, was expected to be the first witness.

Charles F. Linsley, of Meriden, Conn., today's first witness, testified that he was given five shares of stock in the railroad company, and was elected director.

"You were just a dummy, then," questioned Solicitor Folke, and asked when some one pulled the strings?"

"Yes," answered Linsley. "Well, who pulled the strings on you?" Folke asked.

"Why, Mr. Birrard."

Presented with one share of stock by one unidentified person, Linsley said, he was elected treasurer of the Metropolitan Steamship Company, of Maine, and was permitted to sign checks for any amount. Later he said he was given $10,000 in deposits and checks. Part of this money, about $5,000, he said, was used in equipping the steamers Yale and Harvard for their trip around the world.

He said he never questioned the source of the funds.

British Forbid Statue
To Egyptian Leader

CAIRO, May 8.—Trouble is brewing here because the English-led government positively forbids the Egyptian nationalist party to erect a statue in the city of Mustafa, a casual Pasha, the brilliant young nationalist leader, who died in 1908.

A French sculptor executed the work, but when the statue arrived the government refused a site for it in any public square or street. The nationalist party then put up the memorial on ground owned by one of their leaders.

Seeing the extreme pressure against the government's prohibition of an "act of patriotism."

Yankee Diplomats May Lose Their Vacations

ROME, May 8.—Ambassador Page is considering a trip to Washington, but so far he has been unable to make any plans, owing to the Mexican imbroglio, which is likely to deprive of a vacation every American diplomat abroad.

The report from Washington of Secretary Bryan's complete exoneration of the Wheeler from the charge preferred against him last summer, while first secretary of embassy here, was received in Rome with considerable interest.

Mrs. Wheeler became immensely popular here, and was greatly missed during the present social season.

The Reign of the Tarleton Plaid

It has put its distinctive stamp upon the popular fashion of the season—which means we are showing an immense variety.

In Men's at $25 In Young Men's at $15

In many combinations—different combinations from most you'll find—and the effectiveness of the patterns is accentuated by characterful modeling which our designers have given them. Soft-rolling fronts, that takes tailoring to produce properly. Semi-fitted backs; shoulders of exactly the right balance; lapels with the right peak; neat cuffs on the sleeves—vests buttoning high—trousers cut snug.

Best Tarleton Plaids are not all these grades hold. There are, as well, pencil stripes—neat mixtures and oxford effects—and plain colors. In the extreme and conservative models. With our splendid workmanship.

THE FISHERMAN'S
GUIDE

Weather Forecast—Showers this afternoon and tonight; Saturday, probably cloudy.

Wind—West.

Condition of the Potomac—Slightly muddy.

High tide—6:23 a. m. and 6:55 p. m.

Low tide—12:25 a. m. and 1:07 p. m.

Not much fishing was done in the Potomac yesterday, as the water was a little too cloudy. It is not much improved today, but unless more rain falls it will be in good condition by next Sunday. It is somewhat clearer in the tidal basin, and some good sized perch have been taken there this year, but there are not enough of them there to make it worth while for the fishermen when he can find other waters in reasonably clear condition.

In a little more than a month the bass fishermen will be swarming up the river, and the fishing season will be on in earnest. It's time to go over that reel again with an oiled rag and to polish up those spoons and spinners. And if you are just learning the rudiments of game fishing a lot of practice at casting now will probably save you some big fellow when you get a strike next month. A bass on one end of the line and a backlash at the other is seldom a successful combination.

A great many beginners make the initial mistake of holding the rod in the wrong position during the cast. At the beginning of the cast, when the rod is held almost horizontally with the tip behind you, the reel should be on the side next you, with its axis in a vertical position, and not on the under side of the rod, with its axis horizontal. If the rod is to be retained in this relative position so that in the finish the handle of the reel, if you are right-handed, points upward. The best results cannot be obtained when the reel is on top of the rod at the finish of the cast.

The reason for this is that it allows an even thumb pressure to be maintained on the reel. If held in the incorrect manner it is almost impossible to keep from giving the rod a push with the thumb, as near the finish of the cast the thumb pressure is apt to be released entirely. The first and last thing for the novice to remember is never to release that thumb pressure on the reel. This will reduce backlashes to the minimum.

Boats may be obtained from Trammell, Great Falls; Fletcher, Lock Cove; two boathouses. Three Sisters; Reynolds or Barker foot of Thirty-fourth street; Cumberland foot of Twenty-sixth street; Bailey, under Anacostia bridge; Miller, D. C. end of Benning bridge.

Bait always to be purchased at following boathouses: Reynolds; Bailey's and Miller's. Also at certain fishing tackle stores.

The following places bear the reputation of being good fishing grounds: (1) "The Parlor," a pool above Boiling Rock, straight out from Fletcher's. The water is deep and swift, and the pool bears its name because the fish are known to congregate there. (2) Middle Rock, above the Chain Bridge.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS
HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder trouble.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. rado strike conditions, appearing in a black shroud, today began to serve a workhouse sentence of two months for "disorderly conduct." Turner was the only member of a dozen who volunteered to form a "shroud company" who carried through the project.
